

Zepp Health Announces Appointment of Chief Technology Officer

BEIJING, Aug. 19, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Zepp Health Corporation ("Zepp Health" or the "Company") (NYSE: ZEPP) today announced that it has appointed Mr. Meihui Fan as the Company's Chief Technology Officer, effective on August 19, 2021. After his appointment as CTO, Mr. Fan will review and supervise the technical roadmap, key functions and technical indicators of the Company's business divisions. He will also align the technical goals and milestones between various business divisions to standardize and promote R&D pipelines and tools. The CEO will continue to provide his guidance to the CTO in leading the Company's technology leadership, help create innovative products and services, as well as win new business opportunities with his technical expertise.

"We are thrilled to have Meihui as our CTO," said Wang Huang, Chairman and CEO of Zepp Health. "His strong track record in the information technology industry and solid management experience make him an excellent choice to lead our technology team. With 8 years at Zepp Health, he rose up from the ranks and forged strong working relationships with our core management team. As company CTO, he will draw on his extensive experience and strong expertise to lead our innovation efforts, enhance our technological capabilities, and enrich our technological ecosystem. Our self-branded products like Amazfit are growing fast and propelled the company into the next stage of development. This is the first time the Company has appointed a CTO. Alongside recent announcements of a new smart wearable AI Chip, Zepp OS and sleeveless wrist blood pressure measurement at the Company's developer conference the Next Beat, the CTO will keep the Company's technological growth on track and ensure the Company stay competitive in the long term. We look forward to his continued strong contributions to Zepp Health in this new role."

Mr. Fan has gained extensive experience in the information technology industry. Prior to being appointed as the CTO, he served as the President of Global Innovation Center and had other roles in the Company from January 2014 to July 2021. He was in charge of all software related technical architecture and management of the entire R&D team. Mr. Fan obtained a Bachelor's Degree with a Double Major in Molecular Biology & Cell Biology and Signal & Information Systems at the University of Science and Technology of China.
